Fina

Designed by Wolfgang C.R. Mezger

Fina with a cantilevered base provides a higher design aesthetic as well as greater comfort due to the flexibility of its frame and shell. The interior of the fully upholstered version is marked by a ripple-effect horizontal stitching detail that originates from the angle of the seat and grows wider as it approaches the upper part of the back and the front of the seat. The cantilevered base is available with a fluted wood or translucent plastic armrest that tapers toward the back and floats independently from the shell.
